

Peace of mind has a familiar name.

Individual Whole Life Insurance

Underwritten by Accendo Insurance Company, part of the CVS Health® family of companies and an Aetna affiliate

Covering your final expenses at a time of loss.

A funeral can be one of the largest family expenses — running $7,360 or more on average, not including the cemetery plot, tombstone, and other related costs.¹ Plus, Social Security benefits pay only $255 to qualified dependents and the Veteran's Administration benefit offers only $300.²

That's why final expense insurance was created. It's a whole life insurance policy designed to cover funeral costs or medical bills with a cash payment made directly to your beneficiaries. These policies typically:

- Require no medical exam
- Have low premiums that don't go up
- Pay out as long as you keep your premiums current

Peace of mind from a name you trust: CVS Health.
